

For the Love of Cooking...

For many, cooking is a lifelong ritual symbolic of love, nurturing and family. Seventy-one percent of seniors said they enjoy cooking, and those who cook for themselves report a healthier diet and wellbeing. Amity-powered communities allow residents to pursue their passion for cooking, all while taking safe precautions to protect and manage the facility. In addition, senior residents are empowered to cook and provide for themselves, solving a large challenge for families considering senior living programs.

Why Choose Amity?

Amity gives residents the freedom to cook for themselves with a safe, smart solution for community managers. Our retrofit Smart Knobs turn any stove into a smart appliance in just minutes. Through a single touch point, your staff can monitor activity remotely, receive safety alerts, engage automatic shut-offs, and more to ensure facility-wide safety for your residents. Now, you can offer residents and their families a tool that preserves dignity and independence while providing peace of mind and safety.

RESIDENT SAFETY

Our retrofit Smart Knob enhances your residents' safety with features such as an automatic shut-off and safety lock.

RESIDENT MONITORING

Amity's dashboard offers real-time visibility and control of all stoves in your community through a single touch point.

RESIDENT ANALYTICS

Our data can provide insight for early detection of cognitive impairments and aid in determining the need for elevated care.

Why Does It Matter?

74%

of multifamily residential building fires are caused by unattended cooking

65%

of baby boomers are willing to pay a premium for smart technology

2.5x

higher risk for 50+ population to die in a house fire

#1

fear among aging adults is losing independence